“The mobile phone appeared in our country more than twenty years ago. But today, these portable phones have become ordinary things. People of modest conditions like women traders in the market, motorbike mechanics, and even students have their mobile phones. Unfortunately, these little phones are causing troubles everywhere. For example, many accidents are caused by careless drivers who were calling while driving. Church or mosque services are sometimes disturbed by these small things. Many other examples exist, like using them for cheating during exams”.
