DEVOIR

Yapi was a 3rd form student. His parents used to give him pocket money and he would buy anything he could eat.

One day, when he arrived at school, he bought some meat that he put in a lot of bread and enjoyed it.

Some time later, he felt a serious stomach ache and he had to go toilets many times. He was taken to the school infirmary. He was given some pills and he felt better. But when he came back home, the pain started again and he was taken to hospital by his parents. He remained there for three days. His parents were worried for never told them what he had eaten.

The Doctor advised them to make sure that Yapi did not eat in the streets.
