DURATION: 1H30

ACADEMIC YEAR: 2025-2026

PART ONE: READING FOR COMPREHENSION (8 pts)

Read the text below and do all the activities that follow it.

My Teen Sister

My favorite little sister is Fatou. She is sixteen years old. She is short, 1 meter and 51 centimeters tall. She has long wavy, shiny, brown hair. Her skin is so beautiful. It reminds me of the color of coffee with milk. Her face is a heart form. You can see her anger or happiness in her big expressive brown eyes. She has a little nose, and her mouth looks like it was painted light pink. She can speak two thousand words, moving from hate to love and from love to hate, change her opinion five times, start talking alone, forget what she was talking about at the beginning, all in one minute. It's a little difficult to try to talk to her, but it's fun. She has a strong personality. She falls in love every year, and she is a little crazy, but I love her personality.

Sometimes I want to kill her, and she wants to kill me too. I think that is normal between sisters. She likes the song "Mystery Train" by Bon Jovi. She likes rap, hip-hop and pop music. She likes reading romance and fantasy books. She enjoys horror movies (I know, she is crazy). She loves to go out with her friends, paint her nails, and wear high heel shoes. She is always dancing, studying, reading, working and going out. She is a very busy girl. The truth is that since her childhood, she has danced, sung and talked incessantly. She always knew what she wanted and never hesitated to say her opinion. She has lived happy and sad moments like everyone, but she has continued with her life. She makes me feel very proud for that reason. She will continue to grow up to become "the best version of herself," and work hard to pay my bills (It's a family joke). When she reads this part she will want to hit me. I love my teen sister.
