Holiday Memories

Last year, I spent my holidays in my grandparents' village. It was a quiet place, far from the noisy city. Every morning, I woke up early to help my grandfather work on the farm. We watered the crops and fed the animals. It was hard but fun!

In the afternoon, my cousins and I would go down to the river. We swam in the river for hours, laughing and playing in the cool water. Sometimes, we took our slingshots to the forest. We didn't hurt animals, but we practiced shooting at empty cans. However, some older boys enjoyed killing birds, which made me feel a little sad.

On weekends, we played together in the village field. We played football until sunset. My cousin James was the best striker, and I tried to defend against him, but he was too fast!

Sometimes, we went to the lake with our uncle. He showed us how to go fishing. We sat quietly for hours, waiting for the fish to bite. I caught two fish one day . I was so proud!

That holiday was one of the best in my life. I learned new things, had fun, and made great memories with my family.
